New Year's Resolutions Can Prevent Child Abuse

New Brunswick, NJ- Throughout January, citizens across the state will make a commitment to prevent child abuse at www.preventchildabusejnj.org. The site offers visitors a unique opportunity to hear from children who have benefitted from prevention services and programs, and invites a personal gift that will help create safe, nurturing homes for children. The online registry was developed by Prevent Child Abuse-NJ, a private, nonprofit organization leading child abuse prevention services throughout New Jersey. Visit the website or call 1.800.CHILDREN for more information.
